

Frontignan, 28 November 2023

HEXIS OBTAINS IATF 16949:2016 CERTIFICATION FOR ITS FRONTIGNAN SITE

HEXIS, a major player in the manufacture of self-adhesive PVC films, announces that it has been awarded IATF 16949 certification for its Frontignan site, the Group's head office.

Initially approved as ISO/TS 16949 by the ISO International Standards Organisation, IATF 16949 specifies requirements for quality management system processes that promote continuous improvement, the prevention of defects and the reduction of non-conformance and scraps in the supply chain.

This standard is internationally recognised as a benchmark in the automotive industry.

In order to obtain this quality standard at its Frontignan site, HEXIS has adopted a culture of risk assessment and prevention within its organisation, with the implementation of robust processes, rigorous quality controls and efficient management systems.

"With a quality management system certified according to the IATF 16949:2016 standard, HEXIS makes the quality of services transparent and demonstrates the efficiency of processes all along the value chain.", points out Guillaume Leonardon, QHSE & CSR Director.

ROOTED IN QUALITY FOR THE BENEFIT OF CUSTOMER SATISFACTION

This certification is a key step in the commitment of HEXIS to provide high value products and services for the benefit of its clients in the graphic arts and visual communication sector.

"This accomplishment, which is the fruit of the work of HEXIS employees, demonstrates our commitment to our clients by offering them an additional guarantee of the quality and reliability of our products. This will also enable us to explore new opportunities and broaden our presence in the global market of car manufacturers" explains Caroline Mateu, President of the HEXIS Board of Directors.

The certification for its second production site at Hagetmau (64) is already in progress and is scheduled over the course of the first quarter of 2024.

HEXIS is committed to maintaining the highest standards of quality, safety and performance by investing in innovation, training and the continuous improvement of its processes.

Press contact: camille.mosler@hexisgroup.com

About HEXIS SAS

As a manufacturer and distributor of self-adhesive films since 1989, HEXIS has established itself as a major player in the market for visual communication and surface protection. With its products manufactured in France, its culture of made-to-measure products and its ability to innovate and diversify its offer, HEXIS has secured its reputation among image professionals throughout the world.

